

Executive Director
Pennsylvania State Employees Retirement System

The Pennsylvania State Employees' Retirement System (SERS), Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, is seeking an Executive Director. This position serves as chief executive officer, reports to an eleven member Board, and oversees a staff of 197.

SERS was established in 1923 and administers both a defined benefit and defined contribution plan. It is one of the nation's oldest and largest statewide defined benefit plans, and is comprised of approximately 220,000 members.

The ideal candidate will have at least five years of managerial experience, including at least two years of senior leadership experience in a pension fund, and be an accomplished leader with considerable management experience, professional presence and maturity, strong people skills, outstanding political skills, excellent communication skills, and the highest integrity and ethics. A bachelor's degree is required; an advanced degree is preferred.

Compensation will consist of a competitive salary and benefit package dependent on the experience, qualifications, and credentials of the successful candidate.
